Comm. Abhishek Choudary, Vice President, CHQ, AIGETOA has extended his sincere gratitude for giving an opportunity to address the gathering. He mentioned that this type of open session gives an opportunity to believe that executives are part of the organizations. There is difference between non-executives associations and executions are that non-executives association has representation in all field with bargaining power, whereas executives association being part of the management gets such occasion to address their grievances before the management. He mentioned that management has to take the opinion of the executives before some policy is made. Executives associations have been making their problems aware of the management in the past also. Now, BSNL management has decided to give a formal platform to the executive association by way of referendum. He mentioned that the majority association should take care of all the executives then only the purpose of the referendum will be served. He mentioned that after analyzing for the 14 years of the working of various associations, it has been found that AIBSNLEA is truly representing all the disciplines of executives; thereby AIGETOA has decided to join hands with AIBSNLEA.
